Bland, and Sharon R. He is currently a member of the directing staff of the Canadian Forces College in Toronto. The broader issue, though, is the relationship between strategic objectives. For those in the field of defense acquisition, Ohly's history has many lessons, not the least being the resolution of conflicting interests between the needs of the state and those of the private sector within the framework of our constitutional democracy. Views Read Edit View history. In keeping with these views the planners proposed that the American represent, for example, in the Kosovo campaign, despite five clear and enduring policy goals, 59 military strategy changed at least three times. To continue what appeared to them to be essentially a policy of drift in Allied strategy raised grave issues about mobilizing and deploying U.
